

SWEDISH LORRY PARTS

Swedish Lorry Parts

At Swedish Lorry Parts, we specialize in high-quality alternative spare parts suitable for the Swedish heavy vehicle brands Volvo and Scania. We provide a first-class alternative to OEM parts for demanding heavy vehicle owners around the globe.

Strong customer relations

Since our founding in 1991, the company has developed strong customer relations around the world. In 91 countries, we provide essential components for repairs of heavy vehicles. Our high product quality and availability and our quick delivery have earned us a good reputation in the heavy vehicle industry.

Constantly growing product range

We offer some 13,500 products, and our product range is growing by about 1,500 articles per year. The company currently records sales of some SEK 200 million annually with 50 employees.

Our product range

Manufacturing and selling high-quality spare parts have always been our most important focus and the key to our success. As a customer, you can be sure that parts from Swedish Lorry Parts maintain at least the same quality as original parts. And at a more attractive price.

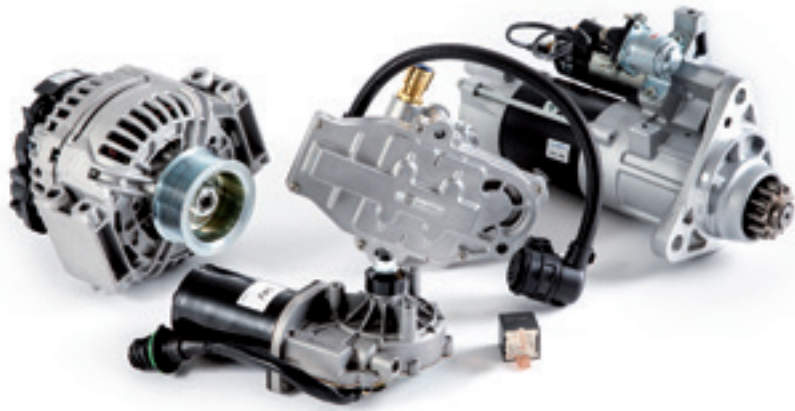

We offer heavy-duty spare parts suitable for Volvo and Scania trucks, buses and heavy equipment, and Marine & Industrial parts. We also offer a limited range of body components.

Developed in-house

To assure quality our skilled engineers develop and design all production line tools in-house. You can be confident that our quality standards apply to every step of production, from purchasing to finished product.

Special kits

We produce a variety of ready-to-use special kits that include all the parts required for specialized repairs, collected under a single article number.

Advanced Warehouse Management

Automated processes and well-stocked shelves mean quick deliveries for you, and have earned us a good name in the heavy vehicle industry.

95% product availability

Our warehouse is automated and article availability is always high, typically as much as 95 percent. Orders are usually packed and shipped the same day they come in. The production facility where we assemble our repair kits is right next to the warehouse.

Unlike vehicle manufacturers, for us, spare parts are our main focus. That's why we can maintain such high availability. Over 65 percent of our products come from production lines tooled by us, based on our own drawings, and most are manufactured in Europe.

Worldwide distribution

Our warehouse facility is strategically situated in Kumla, Sweden, in the middle of a logistical hub. Thanks to our geographic location, we have ready access to all forms of transport and can deliver by ship, air, truck or train. Our customers know we are reliable and expect efficient, on-time delivery of top quality products. We never let corporate structure or technology stand in the way of quick delivery.

Rapid transport by sea, air, truck and train

In a growing number of countries around the world, Swedish Lorry Parts provides critical components and parts to service and repair heavy duty vehicles. Our high quality and quick delivery have earned Swedish Lorry Parts an excellent reputation in the heavy vehicle industry. Today our reliable supply chain with cutting-edge support is available in 91 countries.

We ship over 100,000 deliveries annually to more than 91 countries around the world.

Service and technical support

Whether you need help finding the right product, need to solve a technical issue or have questions about our online shop, we are here to help. Our technical experts have solid expertise and decades of experience in their product areas, and will help you find exactly the parts needed – even for older vehicles, which sometimes requires clever detective work.

Online store

The easiest and fastest way to order is by using our online shop. It's open 24/7 and always provides up-to-date availability and price information. Once you log in, it's easy to find your way through our extensive product range.

Print catalogues

You can access our spare parts catalogues online or order printed copies. Here you can find our full extensive range of quality spare parts for Volvo and Scania trucks, buses, off-road vehicles and industrial and marine engines.

Our technical experts have deep knowledge of a wide range of models and types of vehicles, with often decades of experience in their product areas.

Thorough quality testing

We strive to provide the best quality in the industry and we test all products thoroughly before offering them for sale. We constantly monitor the market and talk with customers about how our products are used.

Tough quality standards

Making sure that every part we sell meets our tough quality standards is at the heart of our business. As proof, we have doubled our warranty period to two years.

As a Swedish Lorry Parts customer, you can be absolutely confident that our products deliver the quality we promise. And in the unlikely event there's a problem, you are covered by our unique warranty, which is twice the warranty on original parts.

Our Sweden based labs and team of technicians with years of experience in heavy duty spare parts industry enable us to create all design in-house.

"Commercial vehicles run for long hours, often in tough conditions. Every single component needs to be durable and reliable. We offer an alternative to original parts, but we aim to be better and more affordable".
